'JOCK'S WAGGIN' TONGUE

Vol. 3 Thur. Aug. 10 1939 No. 27
Jock McIntyre, Editor

We have heard it said that when the cat's away the kittens will play. So if you found things wrong with last week's Chronicle just remember that the cat (or editor) is away.

It can truly be said that you get more in a Westinghouse Radio. The 1940 models are wonderful machines even compared to the 1939 models. They all use the 1.4 volt tubes and use only a small percentage of the current used by the former tubes.

Ed Griffin has moved to the head of the class in the local fishermen's club. Ed brought home an eight-pounder last week from White Horse Creek—or was it Race Horse Creek? However, White Horse had something to do with it.

The new Findly ranges are here and they are beauties as well as being good ranges. Look them over and see for yourself.

We heard this one at the local filling station the other day:

Virg: "Here comes another of those I.W.W. customers."

Jack: "I W.W.?"

Virg: "Yeah. Information, wind and water."

Let us show you the new Beatty Washers at the new low prices.

Calgary Power Co.'s cooking is coming to town. Be sure and see it on August 14th at 8 p.m.

We would be more than pleased to make you a price on the paint for your paint job. There are none better than Marshall Wells paints, you know.

Mrs. Roach and daughters of Battle Creek, Mich., who have been visiting Don McLaughlin, left for their home today.

You people of Champion are necessary to us in our business and we realize we cannot hope to stay here unless we please you.

Helen: "I don't see why he dates her—she's a terrible dancer."

Mary: "No, she can't dance, but she sure can intermission."

Premier Addresses Crowd of 350 at Barons

Barons

Miss Helen Slaymaker, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Slaymaker of Rocky Mountain House, former resident of Barons District was married on June 3rd to Daniel Brockman of Rocky Mountain House. The young couple reside on a farm near Rocky.

Barons patients in hospital include Mrs. Wes. Lyon, who underwent an operation at Galt hospital on Saturday, and whose progress is good; Lee Wilson and M. O. Arnegard in Carmangay. Mr. Arnegard underwent a serious operation on Tuesday.

Barons was well represented at Waterton Park over the week-end. Among those making the boat trip to Glacier on Sunday were 30 Barons people who had to sit on the deck as the deck of the boat was so crowded.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McFarland, Mrs. A.S. Roberts and Barbara McFarland, spent Monday at Waterton visiting the Misses Mary and Hazel McFarland and Beverly Roberts, who with Shirley Sherwood, Vivian Carnegie and Mrs. R. Kothas have been camping there for the past several days.

The Barons W.I. were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Gus Kulpas on Thursday. A paper on Food Allergies given by Miss Helen Jacobson was much enjoyed and Mrs. H.D. McIntyre demonstrated the "Confectioner's Nick" for sealing pastries. A Professor Quiz, conducted by Mrs. J. Chester was won by Mrs. Geo. Burrell of Calgary.

Mrs. C.L. Beers of Judith Gap, Montana, is the guest of her mother Mrs. M.O. Arnegard for a short time following attendance at the wedding of her sister, Miss Olive Arnegard to Mr. Earl Powell of Great Falls, Montana, which took place at Shelby, Montana on Wednesday, August 2nd.

Grade Nine results are out and seem to be very satisfactory. Most of the students interviewed have had good marks, some having a number of A's and B's.

HIGH SCHOOL STAFF VACANCY FILLED

Miss Grace Elmore of Abbot's Ford, B.C. has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Walter Miss Elmore has fine recommendations and will no doubt be an excellent teacher. She has a first class teacher's Diploma and a High School Teacher's Diploma. Miss Elmore has a B.A. awarded by University of Alberta, four post Graduate credits as well as a School of Education diploma. Obtaining a Jr. Certificate in Dramatics and typing, and a High School Teacher's certificate in Physical Education all as a result of attending Summer School at Edmonton. Miss Elmore has credits in choral practice and High School Art.

Miss Elmore has taught for 13 years gaining fine recommendations from Alberta inspectors and an excellent list of character references.

Phone Lines Repaired

A crew of repair workers on Alberta Government telephone lines are in action here. About 25 men are at work in the Champion area replacing all the old poles. Lines are being replaced and repaired.

New Democracy Movement Gets Encouragement

Speaking before a capacity crowd which an accurate count proved 350 people, Premier William Aberhart and his colleagues brought the message of the Big Book to people of the Little Bow constituency. Enthusiastic interest was the key note of the crowd as they listened attentively to the words of the speakers.

Hon. Peter Dawson acted as chairman and spoke very briefly before he introduced the first speaker, E.G. Hansell, M.P. of Vulcan. Hansell, too, curtailed his remarks to 5 minutes, making in that time a plea for acceptance of the New Democracy movement under Herdridge.

Hon. E.C. Manning was the second speaker of the afternoon and dealt, in his analytical fashion with the problems of the government and the opposition they had received. He told the meeting that the purpose of the tour being conducted was to bring facts to the people so that they might be in a position to appreciate the work the government was attempting. He stressed that the Big Book contained only facts which any citizen could verify for himself.

The introduction of the Premier was enthusiastically received and he seemed to appreciate it very much. Smiling and genial he proceeded quickly into the text of his speech. With Hon. E.C. Manning and Orvis Kennedy at the controls the pages of the Big Book were turned one by one while Aberhart explained the work of each department. During the explanation of Treasury Branches it was stated that Vulcan will have a treasury branch within two weeks.

Despite the heat (it was 98 in the shade outside the building and a good deal more inside) the crowd was quiet and attentive.

During the discussion of Provincial debt a member of the audience questioned the Premier who stopped his address long enough to explain his point in a satisfactory manner. There was only one other interruption; this in regard to taxation.

At the conclusion of the meeting a question period was called but there was no response.

Stress was laid by the Premier during his afternoon speech on the reduction of debt by this government. Since that time we discovered an item in a newspaper regarding a statement made by Dr. S. T. Bryd, Mayor of New Market and a member of the conservative party who says "You've got to give him (Aberhart) credit for running the Alberta government cheaper than the previous government was run."

During a short intermission

Carmangay

Mr. and Mrs. D. Folk and daughter Dorothy were guests at the C.U. Folk home on Sunday, and visited at the home of Mrs. Dee Folk's relatives, Roy Craig.

Harry Spencer, of Edmonton was a Sunday guest at the parsonage.

Mrs. Jim Bacter and young son are visiting in the district.

"Jesse James" is the picture for next Monday. Mrs. Davey won the $15.00. Alex Latiff, being absent missed the $10.00 his name was called for. $15.00 will be the draw next week.

Mr. and Geo. Mrs. Baldwin and family, Lee, Mack and Patsy returned last week from a delightful trip to many Glaciers and Grand Coulees Dam. On their return they called on Fred Williams and C.H. Messenger at Creston.

Mrs. Alf Edlund and daughter, Mary Karen, of Carstairs were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Atkins for a few days last week.

A special meeting of the Women's Hos. it Auxiliary held Saturday night showed a fair attendance. The president, Mrs. A.F. Wilson distributed the hospital sewing to the ladies who kindly offered to do it. Dr. Freeze addressed the ladies regarding the "Iron Lung" and answered all questions. At the close of his address Dr. Freeze stated that an Oxygen tank would be very acceptable, but that he was sure the ladies could be relied upon to do what was best. The Auxiliary expressed a vote of thanks to Dr. Freeze for attending.

Following the discussion on the "Iron Lung" it was decided that to install one in this hospital was not so practical as it had seemed.

This meeting cancels the regular August meeting. The next meeting will be held September 16th.

Mrs. Alex Anderson of Calgary is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Neilson.

Arrowood Woman Chosen As C. C. F. Candidate For Macleod Riding

At a well attended C.C.F. nominating convention for the Macleod federal constituency held in the community hall at Carmangay on Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Ruth McBride of Arrowood was named by acclamation to be the party's candidate in the next Dominion election.

Mrs. McBride, whose farm home is 9 miles southeast of Arrowood, has been active for many years in U.F.A. work. Besides holding office in her local organization since 1920, the year in which she founded it, she was convener of young people's work for U.F.A. for four years in the province and U.F.A. director for the Macleod constituency for four years before which she acted in that capacity in Bow River for one year.

The newly-nominated candidate, who is a mother with a family of three, expressed herself as believing that women are needed in politics as they

Silence

SILENCE is a net which holds many things. There is a moment after a song is sung, when silence seems full of music; when the thought remembers the sounds' wonders.

Silence is so much more than the absence of sound. In a green valley, the silence is a kind of golden dream in which the imagination lingers. But in the high places, where the mountains lift their heads above the clouds, silence is a cool hand laid on the heart, a deep river seen far off. On the vast desert, under the dome of stars, silence is a deep well in which we gaze. On the blue sea silence is full of rhythm, and the eyes follow the tides, and seek the pathways hidden from the sun, far below the water-surface where an unknown silence dwells.

Silence broken can be a lovely thing. The brittle snow breaking under the foot breaks the silence of the winter day, and in the sound is the echo of frost and the music of cold. In autumn, one leaf falling wakes the stillness, and drips through the blue shadow of smoke like a quiet word said. In summer the white fountain makes a pattern of sound against the dark stone, against the languid hour. And in spring the first bird-note wakes the earth, wakes the heart, after the long silence of the winter season.

Silence is a gift offered for solace. When the world's music breaks too much upon the sense, silence offers its healing interlude. With no texture, no color, no sound—silence is a net which holds many things.

Why Editors turn grey

(MIDLAND ONT., FREE PRESS)

Printers sometimes do strange things when they make up pages. They put articles under wrong headings and occasionally they transpose parts of two news items. Last week we published two articles, one telling of the photoplays planned for the Esquire theatre at Penetanguishene, and the other giving a report of the Sunday sermons preached at the Presbyterian General Assembly. We may as well laugh about it now as cry. If our hair had not been white already, it would have turned so the minute we sat back to have a good look at the paper.

The last sentence on the Presbyterian article which appeared on the front page read like this: "Morning service was conducted by..." and then when we turned to the turn-over page the first words under the heading that met our eye were "expectant mother".

Now for what happened to the Esquire theatre story. We read about the big smash hit, "Stage Coach", and were told that in the stage coach were nine passengers including two women of shady repute, Claire Trevor, a lady run out of town by the reform elements, Louise Platt, wife of an army officer, and "the new moderator, Rev. A.C. Stewart of Knox church, Midland, who read the Old Testament lesson, and Rev. M. B. Davidson of Galt, who preached in the evening."

Notes

An Irish agitator said, in defending his use of insulting language, that he used only words found in the English dictionary. That's the trouble. The people who heard him knew what he meant.

Letter From the Editor

The staff of the Chronicle takes the liberty to publish a portion of a letter received from Mr. McRae, as we believe it will be of great interest to his many friends,

Dear Boys;

This is the first chance I have had of a breathing spell since leaving Calgary. On the train there was a delightful group of newspaper men and women and it was not long before we were chatting away telling each other our difficulties and also some of the more pleasant things of life.

I must say that as soon as one gets to know you are from Alberta Social Credit comes to the fore and the question "How do you like Social Credit? Will Aberhart be returned?" This subject is more common than the weather or crops. One of my severest cross-examinations was by a newspaperman from Winnipeg who tried to corner me and get me mixed up in my own statements. Fortunately, all my remarks were "of the record" or not for publication.

No matter how pleasant a time we enjoy at the convention or at New York one of the bright spots of my trip will be the return to Coldwater where I conducted my own newspaper for over three years. Arriving there at 4:02 a.m. I found friends awaiting me at the station and I was kept busy until the noon train renewing friendships. There is a joy one cannot express in meeting those who in other days prove their friendship and still are interested in your welfare.

This convention is described by several speakers as the most influential force for good or evil in the nation, representing as it does editors from every province in Canada and Newfoundland who have pledged themselves to serve their nation and community. There is justification for this statement in facts presented by various speakers.

At the opening luncheon we sat at tables seating four and the Chronicle naturally joined those whom he knew but it turned out that at the table were editors from Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta with the added feature that all had been Western people at one time.

There is a splendid representation from B.C. and Alberta, not to speak of large groups from other sections.

Weekly papers have more future and consequent responsibility than daily papers it was stated. Radio is increasingly covering the world events and the Weekly Press is left with a field to cover the local doings not recorded by radio. Following the evening banquet, a turkey dinner and an inspiring address we spent several hours watching the flood lights play on the falls. I might add that even after I returned to my room after midnight, I watched the falls from my window, yes, in my birthday suit for it is sure hot—my room faces the falls.

Fish and Game Association Organized

A meeting was held in Carmangay Thursday night at which a fish and game association was organized. Following is a brief resume of the minutes:

Moved by B. Hummel, seconded by F. W. Clever that the association be called the Little Bow Fish and Game Association. (carried).

It was moved by B. Hummel, seconded by Mr. Middleton that the Association affiliate with Alberta Fish and Game Assoc. (carried).

Fees were set at 50c per member. Three other committees were named first: W. Birk, Carmangay, J. A. Ruggles, Champion; for big game. The second, M.G. Clever, Champion, F. Howzer, Carmangay, for Song and Game Birds. Third M. Middleton and F. M. Watts, Champion.

It was then decided to arrange a date with Mr. G. M. Spargo of Edmonton for the showing of slides in Carmangay.

Closed Territory on Chinese Pheasants was discussed and certain territories suggested.

Next meeting of the Assoc. will be held at Carmangay on August 27th at 8:00 p.m.

CANCER: A NEW APPROACH

A Discovery Concerning The Difference Between Normal And Abnormal Cells

The significant living and active constituents of the cells, whether animal or plant, are proteins, compounds with enormously large and complex molecules. These molecules may be thought of as a chain, each link of which is a relatively simple molecule of a compound called an amino-acid. The chain may be a long straight one, as in the protein of a silk fibre, or it may be woven into a network or a cage; but, however it is bent or folded, it still remains a chain. Now if these proteins are boiled with dilute acids or if they are digested, they break up into separate links, the amino-acids. Most proteins give a mixture of about twenty different amino-acids, which can be separated one from another only by the exercise of a high degree of chemical skill. Kogl and Erxleben took the step of breaking up malignant tumours into their component amino-acids, which they compared with those obtained from normal tissues, and found a significant difference.

Every chemical substance has its own characteristic molecule; that is to say it is entirely made up of exactly similar particles, each of which consists of a certain set of atoms arranged in a definite pattern. Sometimes this pattern is symmetrical, but sometimes it is not. All the amino acids have molecules whose atom-pattern is unsymmetrical; that is to say it cannot be divided into two precisely identical halves; thus a wine bottle or a teacup is symmetrical, but a boot is not. Now any unsymmetrical pattern can be drawn in two different ways, each of which is exactly like the image of the other in a looking glass. Thus a right and left boot are both of the same pattern, and the mirror image of a right boot is a left boot and vice versa.

It is a remarkable thing that all the molecules which are the links which make up the protein chains in the tissues of animals and plants have one sort of symmetry—they are, so to speak, all left boots. The

The World at a Glance

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons as it recessed Friday for the summer that "certain circumstances" might warrant sending a British fleet to Chinese waters.

Mr. Chamberlain said recent treatment of Britons in North China made his "blood boil".

Even as he spoke Tientsin despatches reported new anti-British demonstrations. A Chinese mob, said to be acting under Japanese prompting, sacked the office of a British firm.

Doubt and perplexity in Tokyo greeted Mr. Chamberlain's words. One naval officer said the British "might send a few ships at a gesture," but held it unlikely they would do more because of uncertainty in Europe.

Japan's Ambassadors to Berlin and Rome ended a two day conference at Lake Como in Italy, at which they were said to have considered Japanese adherence to the Rome-Berlin military alliance.

A Japanese delegation is due in Naples August 26th to explore the possibility of further collaboration with Germany and Italy, already Japan's partners against communism.

The United States and Soviet Russia agreed to continue in effect an agreement whereby Russia will buy a minimum of $40,000,000 in American goods in the next twelve months and the U. S. will accord Russia the same tariff reductions as countries with which it has trade agreements.

Sailing on The Great Lakes

Canada's "Pocket Ocean Voyage" from Fort William to Port McNicoll by Canadian Pacific Great Lakes Steamships is a unique 542-mile trip with all the thrills of ship life.

The Canadian Pacific steamships Keewatin and Assiniboia take slightly more than a day and a half for the voyage through lakes and rivers, a good deal of the route being along pretty shoreline but some of it completely out of sight of land. From beautiful Georgian Bay on the east, the ships pass into Lake Huron whose length of 207 miles and width of 101 miles make it the second largest of the Great Lakes.

Then comes the lovely St. Mary's River, the international boundary, and the last part of the voyage is through Lake Superior, largest fresh-water lake in the world.

The sturdy Clyde-built Canadian Pacific steamers are luxuriously fitted for this summer service. Each ship has seven attractive de luxe rooms with private bathrooms, five of the seven being equipped with twin beds and two with double beds. All rooms have running water and there are lights in every berth. Public and private bathrooms have tile flooring, built-in bathtubs and showers. The public rooms are beautifully finished.

High class service includes barber, hairdresser, manicurist and valet. There is an excellent dance orchestra aboard and the cuisine is famous. Both steamers are fully equipped for deck sports, there being facilities for shuffle board, bull board, deck quoits, and deck golf.

Regular sailings, from June 17 to September 16, provide for two eastward and two westward trips each week, the Great Lakes providing an alternate route — air-conditioned by Mother Nature — on a cross-Canada trip, or a distinctly unusual type of summer holiday affording the pleasure of ship life on the calm waters of the great inland seas.

Narrow Escape

Picked up boat load by boat load, unaware of the fate of their companions, 44 seamen were rescued following a head-on crash between two Nova Scotian fishing boats 150 miles out in the Atlantic. The crash, between the Isabell Parker seen at right, and the Edith C. Rose, took place in a dense fog, but only one casualty resulted, that apparently from a heart attack during the collision. The captains of the two boats involved are shown, LEFT, Albert C. Hines, 60, TOP, of the Edith C. Rose, who related a dramatic account of the event, and George Goodwin of the Isabell Parker.

ALSTON SCHOOL NOTES

Work on the new High School for the Alston District was begun last Friday and is progressing rapidly. All labour is volunteer except for the head carpenter, who is employed by the Meleod school division. The building will be a single room 16x24 and will house grades 9, 10 and 11. Public school classes will be held in the other building. It is believed that the number of pupils attending will be about seven or eight.
